BOOM DAYS PREDICTED BY FEDERAL RESERVE

PURPLE AND GOLD WINS THE INITIAL GAME OF SEASON; COLBERT DEFEATED

Tuck and Thomas Buck Ball Through Visiting Line at Will LOCALS SUPERIOR IN EVERY DEPARTMENT
Only Pass Attempted by Albany During Matinee Nets Touchdown

With Tuck and Thomas hammering consistently at the visiting line, the Albany high school won its initial game of the 1921 season Friday afternoon, defeating Colbert-county high 1 to 0. The game was slowed up to some extent by the poor condition of both teams, the hot weather having interfered with conditioning of the men. Colbert, however, proved the worst offender, taking time out frequently. There was no doubt, however, of the superiority of the locals and despite the desperate efforts of the visiting backfield, there never was any doubt of the outcome of the contest.

Colbert won the toss and chose to kick to Albany. McAfee received the kick and ran it back ten yards. Thomas and Tuck backed the line for first down. After Smith had thrown Thomas for a 4 yard loss on an attempted end run, McAfee had been able to gain but two yards and Tuck had been stopped. Tuck punted 20 yards. The visitors followed the unusual program of allowing the punts to run their own course, the safety man-on no occasion apparently making any effort to return them.

The Colbert backfield was guilty of two fumbles and the ball went over with practically no gain except 6 yards ripped off by Preuitt around left end. After Albany failed to gain in three attempts, Tuck kicked across the Colbert goal and the ball was brought back to the 20 yard line.

Colbert tried two forward passes without success. Preuitt passed well but his ends were unable to evade the blocking of the Purple. McAfee tackled Smith for a 6 yard loss behind the line of scrimmage as the first quarter ended. Score Colbert 0, Albany 0.

Second Quarter
The second quarter began with the ball in Albany's possession on Colbert's 30 yard line. Tuck made first down in two bucks and Thomas and Tuck tore off another with straight football. The ball was inside Colbert's 10 yard line, when Albany failed to make the distance and Colbert took possession of the pigskin.

On the first play McAbee tackled Smith so hard the latter dropped the ball and Patton recovered on the one yard line. Tuck bucked it over for the first touchdown and Holt kicked goal. Score Colbert 0, Albany 7.

Tuck kicked to Hutson who made ten yards before he was downed. Preuitt made two yards and Harris made first down through the line. Carroll stopped Felton for a two yard loss, but a pass from Preuitt to H. Felton, the only one completed by the visitors during the entire afternoon, netted 20 yards. The half ended with the ball just inside Albany territory. Score Colbert 0, Albany 7.

Second Half
Preuitt ran Holt's kick back 25 yards for the longest gain of the day for the visitors. McAbee and Thomas both hit Smith and sent him to the sidelines. Preuitt fumbled and Wilson recovered in the middle of the field. After Thomas gained a yard through the line, Tuck passed 25 yards to Ferris, who, with a clear field in front of him, sped to the line for the most spectacular play of the matinee. It was the only pass attempted by Albany.

Holt kicked another goal. Score Colbert 0, Albany 14.
Preuitt ran Holt's kick off back to Colbert's 35 yard line. Wilson was breaking through the Colbert line continually and was proving no end of trouble for the visiting backs. Smith went back into the game, taking Doan's place. After a buck failed and a forward pass was grounded, Preuitt punted to McAfee who was tackled by

Children's Aid Day is Proclaimed by Governor Thos. E. Kilby for October 30

(Montgomery Bureau Albany-Decatur Daily)
MONTGOMERY, Ala., Oct. 1. — "Children's Aid Day" will be observed throughout Alabama on Sunday, October 30, this date having been officially designated for that purpose by Governor Thomas E. Kilby in a proclamation issued Friday afternoon. The chief executive in the text of the proclamation, calls upon all churches and Sunday schools of every faith and creed to render their aid to this interdenominational work by fittingly observing the day and by making any offering which they may be impelled to give. The text of the proclamation follows:

"The people of Alabama have responded freely to the call of the children of the state. Our schools are functioning better today than ever before. H. Felton in his tracks.

C. Felton, knocked out for the second time, was carried to the sidelines, but the gritty little end declined to stay there and reentered the fray.

Tucks fumble was safely recovered and Thomas ripped off ten yards through the line. Tuck then punted to the 20 yard line. A short pass from Preuitt to H. Felton netted Colbert 5 yards, but on the next play Tuck intercepted an attempted pass on the 25 yard line. Thomas advanced the battle line 5 yards with a buck through the center, McAfee made one more and then Tuck swept right end and was not downed until he was on Colbert's 5 yard line. Thomas bucked the ball over and Holt again kicked goal. Score Colbert 0, Albany 21.

Colbert made every effort to score in the last few minutes of play but the local line was a stonewall. Individual stars were few. Preuitt probably did the principal amount of work for the visitors, while every wearer of the Purple and Gold contributed a major share to the victory.

fore, in order that our state may have an enlightened citizenry. Our laws have been changed and added to in many ways, to insure to childhood its full rights and privileges. Juvenile courts are carrying forward their work of looking after the interests of the state's dependent, neglected and delinquent children, supervised and assisted by an active and efficient Child Welfare Department of the State Government.

"Among the most necessary features of an adequate child-caring program for our beloved state is the work of a properly conducted and supervised child-placing agency to find normal family homes for those homeless, dependent and neglected children for whom this care should be provided. This work is done by the Alabama Children's Aid Society, a volunteer society deriving its entire support from voluntary donations by the people of the state. Once a year this Society, through its friends over the state and through the Church and Sabbath schools asks for donations to its work. Our people have heretofore contributed freely to this work and I now call upon them again to support the Society in its well planned and accepted work of child-caring.

"I further hereby proclaim Sunday October 30 as "Children's Aid Day" and call upon all churches and Sabbath school of every faith and creed to render their aid to this interdenominational agency by observance of this and by such offerings as they may feel impelled to give."

FUNERAL HELD FOR FORMER SHERIFF

Funeral services for R. N. Culloch, former sheriff of Morgan County, were held Saturday morning from his late residence on the Danville road, just west of here. Hundreds of friends paid their last silent tribute to the former official. Rev. J. I. Stockton, assisted by Rev. Jones, conducted the services.

Chief of Militia Bureau Resigns

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—Brigadier General Jans I. Carter, widely known during the world war as chief of the militia, retired upon his own application Friday after more than 39 years of service in the United States Army. General Carter was born in the town of New York and was appointed to the position of chief of the militia bureau in 1911.

LEAGUE DELEGATES NOT READY TO PUT LIMIT ON MILITARY

GENEVA, Oct. 1. — A canvass today of the delegations attending the League of Nations meeting reveal decided opposition on the part of the powers to limiting their expenditures on armament at this time. Only a handful of small and unimportant states are ready to begin actual disarmament through limitation of expenditures on their armies and navies.

The present attitude of the powers represented here cannot be accepted, however, as an actual forecast of the position they will take when the Washington conference on limitation of armaments opens next month. The amendments committee reported to the assembly today recommending that no change be made in Article 21 of the League covenant, dealing with the Monroe doctrine. China has been making every possible effort to put limits to the Monroe Doctrine, fearing that Japan would set up the claim to Monroe Doctrine rights in the far east upon the basis of existing treaties and agreements.

The text of Article 21 follows: Nothing in this covenant shall be deemed to affect the validity of international agreements such as treaties of arbitration or regional understandings like the Monroe Doctrine for securing the maintenance of peace.

COTTON MARKET AGAIN IRREGULAR

NEW YORK, Oct. 1. — Wall street was an active buyer early and was largely instrumental in advancing prices 5 to 17 points at the opening of the cotton market today. Reports of rain in sections of the belt helped the advance. The South, commission houses and some of the room traders sold, mainly in the way of evening up for the government report. This caused a reaction subsequently, prices selling off about 13 points under last night's close.

First Use of the Tourist's Camp

W. M. Hargis, prominent resident of Beathett county, Kentucky, has the distinction of being the first to use the new tourist camp, to be operated by the Albany-Decatur Community club in the building which was formerly the Bob Jones tabernacle. Mr. Hargis parked his car in the camp last night. He is enroute to Jacksonville, Fla. He complimented the Twin Cities highly for their camp movement and declared he would spread the news to other

COMMUNITY CLUB IS INCORPORATED

Officers Are Named by the Organization at Enthusiastic Meeting Held in Bob Jones Tabernacle

J. W. Clopton is president of the Albany-Decatur Community Club, an organization which will foster the development of the Bob Jones tabernacle into a community center and the club will be incorporated at once, according to a decision reached Friday night at a meeting of the stockholders held in the tabernacle.

Mr. Clopton will be aided by a number of other prominent local men, including W. W. Rahm, vice president; Lamar Penney, secretary-treasurer; directors Mayor Payne of Albany, Mayor Nelson of Decatur, Clyde Hendrix, Webb Speake and the foregoing other officers.

The decision to incorporate was reached at an enthusiastic meeting. Suggestions were received from those present regarding the proper conduct of the new enterprise and it was the unanimous opinion that it very near future in the probate court. The minimum capital stock was placed would be best to incorporate the project. Papers will be filed in the at $1,000 and the maximum amount was left to the discretion of the officers and directors.

According to the financial report made by J. W. Clopton and Lamar Penney, who were the temporary chairman and secretary respectively, showed that something more than $800 worth of stock has been sold in shares of ten dollars each. It was expected that the amount of $1,000 would be sold easily.

It is the plan of the promoters of the enterprise to use the tabernacle as a tourist camp this winter and to make the building into a community center later. Workmen are completing improvements to the building, adapting it to its future uses.

LIQUOR CHARGES AGAINST "FATTY" ARE HELD LIKELY

(International News Service)
SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 1.—While Roscoe Arbuckle rests in his palatial Los Angeles home, awaiting further steps in the manslaughter case against him here, more trouble is piling up for him. Assistant Attorney General Robert H. McCormack announced today that the film comedian would be prosecuted under the prohibition laws for having liquor in his possession illegally.

At least two other prominent citizens will figure in the prosecution planned against the film star, the Assistant Attorney General indicated. A witness, whose identity is carefully hidden, revealed to McCormack the source of the Arbuckle liquor and also the existence of a coastwise bootleg ring.

KANSAS REMAINING IDLE WHILE HOWATT CONTINUES IN JAIL

(International News Service)
PITTSBURG, Kan., Oct. 1.—The 12,000 miners of the Cherokee field in Kansas, were idle today. No strike had as yet been called, but the men went out in a spontaneous move to show allegiance to Alexander Howatt and August Dorchy, in jail at Columbus because of refusal to give bond not to call any more strikes. Cars stood on tracks and steam sizzled in mine engines, but no mine employing more than a dozen men was working. A mass meeting of miners had been called for tomorrow at Frankfort when it was expected a strike vote will be taken.

That a state wide strike will be called seems a foregone conclusion.

JOB CONFERENCE ENJOYS A REST

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 1. — President Harding's unemployment conference stood in adjournment today, preparatory to taking up permanent cures for the unemployment evil.

Evidence of some of the disharmony that has marked the conference behind the scenes cropped up today in the privately expressed views of members on the program adopted for the immediate relief of the unemployed. One member went so far as to charge that the steering committee, which framed the program, had whitewashed reports of various committee. He declared that teeth had been extracted from the construction committee's report.

Officer's Slayer Caught at Last

(International News Service)
NEWPORT NEWS, Va., Oct. 1.—Carl Meekins, negro slayer of Patrolman DeKorte, is lodged in the county jail here today after one of the biggest man hunts ever conducted in this part of Virginia. For a week the negro has been sought by posse which numbered at times more than 1,000 men. Police, county officials, citizens and Ku Klux Klansmen co-operated in the hunt. Meekins was captured at the home of a friend. The county officers surround his home and demanded that he come. He came forth with his hands in the air. He confessed last night that he killed DeKorte.

MOST OPTIMISTIC FORECAST YET BY OFFICIAL SOURCES ISSUED SATURDAY

Unquestioned Soundness of the Nation's Business Fundamentals is Revealed

RISE IN COTTON GIVES BILLIONS TO THE SOUTH

Price Ascendancy in Leading Commodity Groups Indicate Prosperity's Return

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 1. — Boom times are ahead. Price ascendancy in leading commodity groups spell a return to prosperity. The federal reserve board usually staid and conservative in its predictions, today came forward with the most optimistic forecast yet ventured from any official quarter over the business outlook.

The board's gauge of the commercial pulse reveals unquestioned soundness in the fundamentals of the nation's trade and financial structure.

The rise in prices in cotton and in some of the grain groups is not the result of artificial stimulus, the board finds, but is the result of the old law of supply and demand. Reports of reserve bank directors, summarized by the board, show clearly that the rising cotton prices and the quotations for other agricultural products have led to a rush of orders upon wholesalers and retailers alike and the mills and factories, so long idle, working on part time, are starting to speed up.

In the cotton price rise, nearly $2,000,000 more cash has gone into the pockets of the cotton producers of the South and Southwest and this swelling of credit resources was brought a demand from those sections in all parts of the North and West for commodities common to those sections and generally has stimulated business.

Government financing of the agricultural and railroad industries is held responsible for the spurt in activity. This financing has only started. Such operation upon a much larger scale within the next three months indicate that present favorable present business factors, now in evidence, are to be sustained in full measure.

Bee Line Bridges Finished by Oct. 15

Those who contemplate attending the Semi-Centennial Celebration in Birmingham, Ala., on October 24-25, when President Harding will be the guest of the city, may be interested in knowing that a good motor road, the Bee Line Highway, leads to the city from as far north as Nashville and as far south as Orlando, Fla. The highway has recently been put into good condition through the efforts of the Bee Line Highway Boosters Association and will be ready for heavy travel after the middle of October.

A new fast link has been added with the recent completion of the road between Albany, and Hartsville. A five-mile detour now necessary between Garden City and Bangor will be eliminated by October 15th, and the motorist will find a good highway all the way from Nashville to Birmingham, a distance of 213 miles.

Coming north from Orlando, the Bee Line traveller will find good roads most of the way, splendid roads in South Alabama, and fairly rough roads, but easily travelled, between Montgomery and Birmingham. The southern route goes via Lake City, Tallahassee, Marianna, Dothan (Ala.) and Montgomery.

Reports reaching the headquarters of the Bee Line Highway Boosters Association indicate that the road is being maintained in good condition throughout its length and motorists should experience no trouble.

Information as to the route of the Bee Line Highway may be had from touring information bureau of the north and east, and all along the route, or from the Bee Line Highway Boosters Association, P. O. Box 100, Albany, Ala.

THE VOICE OF THE PEOPLE SHOULD BE HEARD

Deity may not always get its will registered by the people—the voice of the people is not necessarily the voice of their Creator—but the people should speak out just the same. Emphasis was recently given to this sentiment by President W. G. Harding in a letter to one of his Republican friends living in the state of Virginia.
Mr. Harding was asked for a statement on "the duties of citizenship, and part of his letter in reply
is as follows:

"Quite regardless of effect on the fortunes of particular political parties, I am impressed there is need particularly for an appeal to voters to perform their duty at the ballot box on election day. If the result of a full vote in Virginia or any other state should prove disastrous to the party of which you or I chance to be a member, we would at least know that we had heard the voice of the people, and would be more ready to acquiesce in their decision. There is no more important duty for the citizen than this of voting on the one day in the year when his vote means something.

"If you can succeed in securing in Virginia this fall the largest vote the state ever cast I will personally feel that you have accomplished a notable civic advantage, quite regardless of the political result."

Mr. Harding adds a kind of post script to the effect that he thought it would "not be improper for me to add that I shall have like your self, no fear of the political results, if an expression can be secured." If Mr. Harding expects a full vote in the rock ribbed Democratic state of Virginia, to bring out a Republican majority, he is very optimistic to say the least. Nobody south of the Mason and Dixon line would agree with even the President of the United States that there is a ghost of a chance during the present generation,

of Virginia going any other way than Democratic by a large majority. But with the President's contention, that the people should give at least one day in the year to thought and action for the good of the nation in a collective way, all will agree. It seems that Virginia is very lax as to voting on election day. There were only 89 thousand votes cast for Governor in the last election, whereas, according to Mr. Harding's further statement in his letter, there is a "total possible qualified vote of about 900,000 in Virginia.

In 1920 the total vote in Virginia rose to 231-000, a much larger total than the 89th thousand voted for Governor in the Old Dominion state this year. With few exceptions, what is true of Virginia, as not living up to her suffrage privileges, is true of every other state in the Union.
What the President said to Virginians should be read and taken to heart by the citizens of all the "sovereign" states of America.

Charlie Chaplin got absolutely no ovation, or notice of any kind, when he landed in Berlin.

If muscles were harder, arteries would be softer hence less blood pressure, hence long life,
therefore, go to it now, and take more exercise
and less food and nasty liquor.

There is a reason for everything. When George Harvey gets home to stay, the American people will doubtless reason that the time has at last come to buy a home in London for their Ambasador to the court of St. James.

One great disappointment for some so-called Americans, should the Irish Republic fail to materialize, will be the failure of said Americans to be appointed Ambassador, Extraordinary plenipo-tentiary to Cork or some such seaport town.
If only there was just an office for all would we not have a happy world.

The football season opened at the Y. M. C. A.
park yesterday, from the looks of the full tree tops along the L. & N. Railroad.

ported great volcanic activity from Mount Popocatpetl. It is needless to add that the operator spelled the name out.

Those whose normal condition is "unemployed"

the talk about getting jobs for everybody.

it unanimous.

BILIOUS CHILDREN

Black-Draught, Long in Successful
Use, Praised by an Arkansas
Mother, "Soon Does
Its Work."

Marmaduke, Ark.—Speaking of Theodor's Black-Draught, which from long use in her household has become regarded as "the family medicine," Mrs. Mary E. Hill, of Route 1, this place, says:

"When the children get bilious, I give them a couple of good doses, and when we have sour stomach, headache, or any liver or stomach trouble, we use Black-Draught. It is an easy laxative, and soon does the work. I certainly think it is one of the best remedies made."

Black-Draught acts on the faded liver, gently, but positively, and helps it in its important function of throwing out waste materials and poisons
from the system.

In thousands of households Black-Draught is kept handy for immediate use in time of need. Prompt treatment often is half the battle, and will often prevent slight ills from developing into serious troubles.
Its well-established merit, during more than 70 years of successful use, should convince you of the helpful
effects obtainable by taking Black-Draught for liver and stomach disorders. Get a package today, and keep it in your house. See that the package bears the words,
"Theodor's Black-Draught." NC-141

YOUR
GAS MAN

"Your gas blackens my cooking utensils," exclaimed a housewife the other day.

We investigated and one look at her gas range was enough. It has not been properly cleaned in weeks, perhaps in months.
The top burners were dirty and greasy, the holes to the air mixers
were partially clogged and when the gas was lighted it burned with a long, yellow, smoky flame.

An hour later you wouldn't have known that range. The holes to the air mixers had been cleaned out and the burners had been washed in a strong solution of hot water and washing soda
and then rinsed and replaced. When the gas was lighted, it burned
with a clear, blue, feathery flame.

Often, as in this case, blame is placed upon the gas supplied when in reality the trouble is caused by the manner in which the gas is being burned.

PRINCESS TODAY
AGNES AYRES HEADS LIST

Agnes Ayres, recognized as one of the screen's most popular women, because of her excellent work in many notable roles in recent big productions, plays opposite Wallace Reid for the first time in Wally's latest Paramount picture, "The Love Special"
which will be shown at the Princess theater today. Miss Ayres is an unusually beautiful girl and she and Wally put over the romance in a most delightful manner. All who have read Frank H. Spearman's "The Daughter of a Magnate," know the story, as it was from that novel the picture was adapted. Eugene Lewis wrote the scenario and Frank Urson directed.
Theodore Roberts and Sylvia Ashton
also appear in the cast.

23 Reasons Why Your Home Town Newspaper Is Something More Than Just a Home Town Paper

"A home town newspaper," but something more than ONLY a "Home Town Newspaper"—that's the ambition of The Albany-Decatur Daily. Never for one moment has The Daily forsaken its principal mission in life—to give its readers all of the big news of the world and of its home section—"all of the news that's fit to print." News in our modern days, however, has become somewhat of a standardized proposition. The smaller newspapers, through their leased wire connections, carry practically the same wire news as do the larger publications. On the other hand the latter, through their connections with correspondents in various sections of the state, print a great deal of so-called "local" news from the communities in which their correspondents are located. The peculiar appeal that a paper (big or little) has for its readers in a given locality is not so much then the big news it prints, but the minor items of news about people the reader knows. That is where the smaller papers are removed from competition from the larger papers, published at a distance from the "home town newspaper." The big news stories, as has been stated, are published in practically every news publication.

There must be a difference, also in newspapers to cause nearly every one to have a loyal reader following which prefers one paper to another. One writer has very aptly stated that in these days of standardized news, newspapers are comparable to people, in one respect. Everybody in town may get a hat just exactly alike, but the hats will not look just alike, because the faces of the wearers will change the appearance. The features of the wearers are different.

So, in a sense, it is with newspapers. Every newspaper has its face. Some are attractive, others less attractive. Nearly every newspaper has a few "features"—a name commonly attributed to stories and departments of newspapers other than news stories. They explain a great deal of the "difference" between papers that readers feel between two papers of the same news standing.

The management of The Daily, believing that the readers of this paper are as anxious as the operators to see The Daily grow and believing that they have a deep-seated interest in what goes into the paper they look to for their information, decided to put before its readers in this advertisement a snapshot of some of the things Daily readers will enjoy during the coming winter months in this newspaper.

The following 23 reasons are enumerated to show you that the management is building toward that goal of something MORE than just "a home town newspaper," without lessening the task of making a real "home town newspaper."

1. The Daily strives to print each day all of the local news "fit to print." Its news gatherers are men trained in the profession. Its local and social columns are filled each day with interesting facts about our own people.

2. The Daily is served by a leased wire of the International News Service, a news gathering organization with ramifications in every corner of the globe. Every day and Saturday night this great organization gathers and presents for Daily readers the gist of what the world is doing.

3. In addition to these, The Daily is served by correspondents in nearby communities. They serve to Daily readers the news of three counties, namely Morgan, Lawrence and Limestone.

4. Over the International News Service wire there comes every day a story of the opening of the New York cotton market. This story gives an indication of what may be expected during the day on the market and forecasts the trend of the influences which cause increase and decline of prices. Every afternoon, through the courtesy of the J. L. Robinson company, the close of the market, open, high and low prices on the New York and New Orleans markets are given.

5. The Daily has contracted for publication six days a week of the popular strip comic "Polly and Her Pals." On Sunday The Daily will publish four full pages (in black and white) of four popular page comics, namely "Bringing Up Father," "Barney Googles," "Katzy Kids" and "Just Boy."

6. The Daily has contracted for publication of a complete service of news pictures. Illustrated news will be one of this newspaper's interesting features.

7. The Daily has contracted for publication of the following well known and popular features: "Holding a Husband" by Adele Garrison, author of "Revelations of a Wife," a gripping serial.

8. The Horoscope, foretelling your fortune by the stars. It is written by Genevieve Kemble.

9. "Your Health," a helpful department conducted by Dr. Royal S. Copeland, commissioner of health of New York City.

10. The Home Kitchen, conducted by Jeanette Young Norton, an authority on home cooking.

11. Today's Fashions by Vera Winston.

12. Interesting articles from the pen of Winnifred Black.

13. Alternating cartoons by Jaunita Hamel and Annette Bradshaw.

14. Annie Laurie's advice to girls. Readers of The Daily are invited to write to Annie Laurie, or to any other member of this special staff in regard to any problem which may be perplexing them.

15. Beauty hints by Lucrezia Bori, famous Spanish prima donna.

16. "Good Night Stories" for the children by Blanche Silver.

17. Famous wits of history by Mark Stuyvesant.

18. Diary of a Fashion Model by Grace Thorncliffe.

19. Home making helps by Wanda Barton.

20. Readers of The Daily for sometime have scanned with interest the columns of "The Office Cat" on the editorial page.

21. New York Letter, an interesting sidelight on the activities of Manhattan by Lucy Jeane Price.

22. The Daily maintains a Montgomery bureau, conducted by Fred Gormley, one of the state's best known reporters. His regular news reports give a clear and concise view of "Who's Who and What's What" in Montgomery.

23. In addition to its efforts to give its readers the best possible service, The Daily has not overlooked the advertisers, without whom no newspaper could survive. This newspaper has bought the Star Ad-Craft service and will be glad to furnish it free to all advertisers.

ARE THESE NOT COMPELLING REASONS WHY THE DAILY IS ENTITLED TO THE SUPPORT OF THIS SECTION OF NORTH ALABAMA. WITH THE DAILY SEVEN DAY ISSUE READY FOR EVERY READER AT $6.00 A YEAR AND THE SUNDAY ISSUE AT $1.50 A YEAR (FOR OUT-OF-TOWN SUBSCRIBERS) IS THE DAILY, YOUR "HOME TOWN NEWSPAPER" NOT SUCCEEDING IN BEING SOMETHING MORE THAN JUST A "HOME TOWN NEWSPAPER?"
